Foreword

Our Summer catalogue kicks off with coins from the ancient world. Greek Italy and Sicily are represented by numerous silver coins, including four nomos from Tarentum (#2, 3, 4 & 5), an impressive Thurium distater (#8) and a silver half shekel from the time of Hannibal (#9). Also worthy of attention is a superb tetradrachm from Gela with the forepart of a man-headed bull (#11). The coinage of Alexander the Great is widely covered, including three beautiful gold staters, one of which was minted during his lifetime (#20), with the remaining two pieces being of superb quality (#20 & 21). Coin from mainland Greece include pieces from Thebes (#30 & 31), Athens (#33 & 34) and Corinth (#35, 36 & 37). Also present is an electrum trite from Lydia – one of the oldest coin types (#50).

The Roman world begins with Republican silver denarii featuring various gods and goddesses, through the Imperial period, with coins of Julius Caesar (#82) and Mark Antony & Octavian (#83). Collectors of the Twelve Caesars will find the denarii of Augustus (#84, 85 & 86) and subsequent pieces, particularly interesting. Among the many Imperial denarii you'll find spectacular gold aurei.

A large selection of Celtic coins closes the ancient section, with issues from Celtic Gaul and the various tribes of Iron Age Britain. A very pleasing Ambiani gold stater (#145) – one of the first gold coins to circulate in Britain – is not to be missed. It's followed by many more attractive gold staters from Prehistoric Britain.

The British section commences with some excellent anglo-saxon pennies, notably a high grade William I profile issue (#186), William II Rufus penny, extremely fine (#187) and two very Harold I pennies.

In hammered gold, a very high grade Calais Noble of Edward III, graded by NGC as MS62. Following on from this a superb sovereign of Edward VI, graded by PCGS as AU50. In Charles I there is a delightful unite (#204) and a double crown that is one of the finest known, graded by NGC as MS61.

The hammered silver section, sees an excellent group of Charles I, including a rarer silver Pound, an excellent 1642 Crown and some siege money. Also featured is a superb shilling of Edward VI and a couple of testoons.

In milled gold a superb guinea of 1715 and an excessively rare Pattern gold farthing of 1887. Milled silver is highlighted by a fabulous Oliver Cromwell Halfcrown and proof Halfcrown of 1834.

By far the star of the copper section is a spectacular 1827 Penny, second finest known and graded by NGC as MS65.

In World Coins we are excited an impressive Quadruple Taler of August II the Younger commemorating the death of August, with solemn design of a withered tree with a skull at base. This is the finest and the only example known in the PCGS census. What makes it even rarer is that it has no value hallmark. Only other Quadruple Taler such as this one has been seen on the market in the last 20 years. This is followed by a selection of French, Indian and Italian coins. From Italy, a selection of gold and silver coins of Florence are presented and a selection of gold Ducats from Venice culminates with a beautiful silver Osella of Francesco Loredan with a depiction of the Golden Rose presented to the Doge by the Pope. From Japan, there is a selection of Samurai gold Kobans from Bunsei and Tenpo Eras, all certified by the JNDA. The World Coins are concluded with a lovely gold 2 Escudo from Toledo and an American classic – a GSA Hoard Carson City Morgan Dollar.

Islamic Coins start with ever popular Umayyad Dinars and Dirhams, followed by Abbasid coins, of which the rarest one is the donative Dirham of Caliph al-Muqtadir. Donative Dirhams are often struck on medallic flans and are thought to have been touched by the Caliph. Another interesting piece is the gold Dinar of Chingiz Khan, the legendary conqueror and founder of the Mongol Empire. There is also an excessively rare coin of Afsharid ruler Ibrahim who ruled for only one year. This is followed by gold coins of Osman III and the rebel 'Ali Bey, both scarce, especially in such fine condition.
